

Fixed-Wing Certified Flight Instructor

Welcome to Sweet Aviation! Flying is more than a hobby or career — it's a lifestyle propelled by passion. We work very hard to help every one of our customers cultivate that passion by providing an ultramodern, first-rate fleet, professional FAA Part 141-certified flight school, and a staff of the most experienced and friendly instructors in the country share this passion for flying and put the needs of their customers first by adapting to their individual goals, learning styles, personality, and schedule.

This Flight Instructor position is a part time position in which we assist and coach, but you cultivate your customer base. To be highly successful in the general aviation flight school world, we believe you must treat your position as owning your own business while also communicating extremely well with all the other team members. We also believe it is critical for flight instructors to view themselves as coaches assisting customers as friends and like-minded aviation enthusiasts to achieve their dreams vs just a job working as a teacher with students. There is a potential for 100+ billed hours per month. Weekends, evening, and overnight availability are encouraged but not required. The position includes excellent hourly pay, free flight time with each customer achievement, discounted aircraft rental rate for our amazing fleet, and free simulator usage to maintain proficiency.

Minimum Qualifications

- CFI, CFII
- Third class medical certificate
- Strong communicator, proactive relationship builder

Preferred/Bonus Qualifications/Experience

- Glass cockpit
- Cirrus flight time with CSIP/TCI experience a plus
- Initial CFI training qualified – FAR 61.195(h)
- 141 certified flight school experience
- Tailwheel and/or UPRT/aerobatic experience

Responsibilities

Instruct customers in a classroom setting, conduct training flights, determine customer proficiency, report on customer progress, be familiar with and carefully adhere to all FAA guidelines and regulations for flight instructors, and actively cultivate excellent working relationships with your customers through proactive and professional communication.

Summary

We are looking for a flight instructor filled with a passion for flying and sharing that knowledge and skill with customers - upholding our culture of safety, fun, and excellence. You must be a strong team player and continuously strive to improve the flight training experience for our customers.
